

THE CRESCENT CITY NEWS.

Crescent City

It is one of the most beautiful locations in Florida. The town is in the southwest part of Putnam county, 3 miles from Palatka, and is reached by either steam or railroad. Crescent City lies on high ground, rises gently from the west bank of Crescent Lake, a beautiful sheet of clear water 15 miles in length and from three to five miles in width. The place is well laid out in town and grove lots, the former constituting a portion of the town and the latter being the grove lots. The place is well drained. The water of lake Stella has its source in springs and is kept absolutely pure by the town authorities who have made it a misdemeanor to in any way contaminate it.

The Little System Railway touches the west bank of lake Stella, two miles from the town and a little steamer conveys passengers and freight to and from the town and Crescent City Junction, the railway station.

The trip by steamer from Palatka or Jacksonville to one of the most delightful water rides in the whole country, and the passenger who takes this trip is held entranced from start to finish. At a point nine miles south of Palatka the steamer leaves the town and enters the deep river, a rather narrow but tortuous stream lined on either side by a thick growth of cypress, oak and palmetto, the vertical stream the river's curves are sharp and frequent and there is never a long reach of water in sight. After about miles of passage through this stream the steamer emerges into the broad and beautiful lake Stella. A run of an hour and a half carries the passenger to Crescent City, the steamer's southernmost landing. The boat leaves Jacksonville at 8 a. m. every Tuesday and Thursday and leaves Palatka at 3 p. m. the same days. Returning the boat leaves Crescent City on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings and leaves Jacksonville at 10 a. m. and at Jacksonville at 4:30 p. m. No person ever took the steamer Crescent for Crescent City without experiencing new sensations of pleasure and a short stop at the little city makes any man or woman a life long lover of the place.

In the town proper are some of the most beautiful homes to be found in the state and the people are cultured and prosperous. There is a good school, two churches—Episcopal and Presbyterian—and two good hotels, besides pleasant private places where board can be obtained. Hotel and boarding house prices are moderate. The people have provided well kept golf links for the entertainment of those who like this amusement.

Crescent City has more orange groves than any other town in the state. Orange culture is the leading occupation of the people and the quality of this fruit has long been regarded as superior to that grown in any other section of the state. Almost every citizen of the place has a well-kept grove, many of which occupy the grove lots of the incorporation, while others extend into the country back. The merchants of Crescent City are live men, and they show goods of goods which would do credit to many of the larger cities of the state. Living is cheaper than almost any other town in the state.

The streets are lined with shade trees and the native live oaks, and broad sidewalks are laid on the principal streets. Bicycle paths lead in many directions.

Palatka in Crescent City desiring to subscribe for this paper, to receive their subscriptions thereto, may leave their names and money with Mr. E. D. Lounds at the postoffice, who is our authorized agent.

Baked Politics.

The first of the series of scheduled political meetings of the present campaign was pulled off in Chamberlain's Hall here last Thursday. It was one of the hottest days of the season; so hot that the boiled shirt lost its temper and the sack coat quit the back of the political wisacre to seek the shadows. The people did not flock to the meeting in bunches. They hardly came at all. They did not seem to feel the need of the political warming up process. A palm leaf fan and a watermelon had greater attractions, and generally they stayed at home. When the meeting opened there was scarcely 50 in the hall. Later quite a few more came in, including a dozen or more ladies. Mr. Chamberlain the proprietor of the hall distributed fans and did all in his power to relieve suffering.

Most of the candidates for legislative and county offices arrived from Palatka on the steamer LaReve, at noon. The meeting was called to order a little after 1 o'clock, Hon. J. H. Harp, occupying the chair. He asked the audience to lift their thoughts above the weather and to cultivate only charitable feelings for any speaker who attempted to forge additional heat, who talked too long, or who sought to impress them with the idea that "there's a place that is hotter than this."

Mr. Niel M. Allred, of Ocala, candidate for state's attorney was the first speaker. He simply outlined the requirements of the office for which he was a candidate, told of his experience with, and fitness for the work, and promised if nominated, to give the duties of the office his personal and faithful attention. He made a good impression, and a good speech—short and to the point.

John P. Wall was then called for. Mr. Wall apologized for the extreme heat. He was a pretty warm proposition himself, but the weather sort of flabbergasted him. He had come to Crescent City expecting a "frost," but the warmth of his reception had melted his heart and caused the willing process to set in on his collar. If he ever entered another summer campaign he was going to clothe his neck in celluloid, even though in so doing he defied Jim Chesser. Mr. Wall then reviewed his services in the legislature, and said that while he had been there Putnam county had been well represented. He had introduced the dispensary bill, and had done it honestly, believing it to be for the best interests of his county. But as he honestly believed it to be better than prohibition, or high or low license, he was going to stand by it even if he had to stand alone.

The Hon. James M. Chesser of Hollister was the next speaker. Mr. Chesser has several of the qualifications of an orator. His words chased one another like buckshot from a gun and reverberated through the hall till it seemed as if the plaster would crack. He stood as the friend of the Florida cracker and the razor-back hog, and the foe of the dispensary, and on these two propositions he hoped to begin a career at Tallahassee which would redound to the glory of the county and state. Mr.

Chesser was honest and earnest, and the audience seemed to enjoy his talk.

Dr. Frank McRae spoke for only a few moments, simply recounting his work in the last legislature, and promising to do what he thought to be right if returned. The doctor was not feeling well, and in consequence spoke to great disadvantage. He said that he was convinced that the people would not stand for a dispensary law, although it might be a good thing to try in certain counties.

Mr. J. H. Wylie of Interlachen in a few remarks stated his position to be one of opposition to the dispensary, and that he was not in favor of the "no fence law" and never had been. He thought better schools and better roads might properly engage the thoughts of the people, and he was in favor of those things. If elected he would work for the best interest of the county.

Dr. G. F. Sprague did not attempt to speak, but he did take occasion to say emphatically, that he was opposed to the dispensary, to inaugurate which the state would have to appropriate several hundred thousand dollars to purchase a whiskey stock. He was in favor of common sense legislation, and equalization of taxes. The doctor then introduced his young friend, Mr. Redmond Gaultier, a student in Steierson University, and a Putnam county raised boy who was fitting himself by study to take a hand in future political matters.

Mr. Gaultier made really able and instructive arguments against the proposed dispensary law—arguments which were born of investigation. He spoke also of better schools, and sounded some of the key notes with which the coming generation of Florida politicians will approach state problems. Mr. Gaultier's speech was listened to with much interest, especially by all of his audience with whom he had grown up. His style is earnest, and at times there were bursts of eloquence. All who heard him believed they saw the making of a future politician with a strong tendency to statesmanship, always more or less associated with those who seek through study and self-improvement to lift high the standard of qualification for public place. His speech was warmly applauded, and very many congratulated the speaker upon the success of his first effort.

The meeting broke up a little after four o'clock, after which the visitors went to the boat for the return trip, only to find that owing to a leak somewhere it would be impossible to get up steam. This accident necessitated sending a message to Palatka for another steamer and it was eleven o'clock at night before it came and towed the disabled boat load of politicians home. All took the accident good naturedly, and after supper at the hotel spent the time in private interviews with town people. It was three o'clock Friday morning when the party reached Palatka, slightly ruffled but still in the ring.

The Record Broken.

Few people in these parts ever saw the mercury touch the 100 mark on their thermometers, and yet that is the point of heat measured last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to our official report, as will be seen at the head of these columns. Those who saw the mark and felt the heat do not want to repeat the experience. It was a hot, breezy day; hotter than has heretofore been recorded in this place. People sat about, listless, and when they had opportunity, talked about the heat, which had a tendency to make it appear hotter. Then they would consult the thermometer, and run from it to the water cooler and the watermelon. The entire past week has been hot, and dry, but Friday beat the record.

Personal and Social.

Oh! Dat watermelon! Ain't dey great!

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. DeVean left for their summer home, Bridgeport, Conn., last Friday.

Ernest Prior, of Como, who recently went to Jacksonville to secure employment has succeeded in securing a good position in the branch house of Armour & Co.

Mrs. Frank Gaultier, and her two sons, Grosvenor and Dave, left on Monday's train for Hendersonville, N. C., and at which place they will stay about three months.

Blain Shiver states that he has shipped upward of 300 crates of peaches this season for L. A. Ballard, and that in the main the crop has brought excellent prices.

The last of the peach shipments from Crescent City for this year are going forward this week. While the fruit has been uniformly small, growers have realized fairly good prices.

County Commissioner Allen and School Commissioner Tucker came over from Fruitland last week to attend the political meeting. Mr. Kirkland, from the same place, was also here.

Mrs. M. G. Newsom was to leave on Wednesday of this week for the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Calhoun, Marianna, in the northwest part of the state, to be gone some time.

Mrs. Jake Burke, of Tampa, arrived in the city last week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Burton. Mrs. Burke formerly lived here, her husband at the time being an engineer on one of the old Beach & Miller Line boats.

Swimming in lake Stella is a favorite pastime with the boys and girls of the town just now. The boys have an excellent swimming beach and pool over near Rossville and the girls have had a bath house rigged up near the head of Cypress avenue.

Miss Allie Bard Bench, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Geo. U. Bench, formerly of this place, was among the graduates of the Savannah high school last week, the commencement exercises of which took place in the Theatre of that city on Thursday.

Mrs. W. B. Clore and the children will leave next Monday for Pittsburgh, Pa. to which city Mr. Clore went the first of last month, and where they will make their future home. During the last days of her stay here Mrs. Clore is stopping with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Ward.

Harrod Gaultier, Jr., has gone to Jacksonville to look for a position in some mercantile establishment. He is a bright young man, and capable of great things, and his friends are hopeful that he will succeed beyond his expectations. Their only regret is that our young men are forced to so away from home for suitable employment.

The only organized effort looking to a celebration of the Fourth of July in Crescent City this year is the entertainment which will be provided by the ladies of the Episcopal church guild at V. I. Hall in the evening. There will be fireworks outside the hall and ice cream inside. Also a "spelling bee" and musical entertainment. The proceeds are to go for the benefit of the church.

At the Presbyterian church last Sunday the pastor, Rev. Dr. Reeves, announced that he would take his vacation during July and August, and that there would be no preaching services during those months. It is likely that prayer services will be held each Sunday night at the usual hour for service. The attendance at the preaching service has been remarkably good up to the present time, but the pastor is in great need of a rest.

Mrs. C. Smith left on Monday morning for Beaumont, Texas, where she will join her son, Elmer, and make her future home. Mrs. Smith has lived many years in Crescent City, and her permanent departure is cause for general regret, for she numbered among her friends all the people of the place. She expressed great regret at leaving, and only went from a desire to live with her son for whom she will make a home in the far off Texas town, so recently brought into world-wide fame from the discovery of petroleum.

From an indirect source the News learns of the recent death of Mr. B. F. Aumack, but the information is such as to make it reliable. Mr. Aumack had been a winter resident of Crescent City for many years and was well known and highly esteemed by all our people. He was a great sufferer from rheumatism, which for the past several seasons has prevented his getting away from home much. He was well advanced in years, and greatly crippled by his affliction, yet withal he maintained a sunny disposition. While news of his death is not unexpected, it will surprise many and cause universal regret.

The district conference of the A. M. E. church met in the church of that denomination here last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There were some 30 colored preachers in attendance. On Sunday morning an old lame rooster of Whiteville jumped onto the back fence to engage in its usual morning crow, when he espied another bird with ruffled tail feathers coming up from the other side for the same purpose. They crowed together, and George Footman who was just getting up declares that these old roosters didn't do a thing but crow: "And are we yet alive, and see each others' face."

We had the pleasure of going through the grove of Capt. Jno. W. Miller at Crescent City, Thursday. There is no grove in the state that we have seen or heard of that will compare with it. The grapefruit, tangerines, navel oranges and common orange trees are simply loaded to the ground with fruit. The grapefruit will have to be propped up at once. Another thing we noticed, especially, was the large crop of navel oranges. The trees are budding on sour stock. If we should tell anyone that such trees could be grown in two years' time they would not believe it. Quite a number of them have at least ten boxes of fruit each. The captain is cutting off some 100 fine budded trees, some ten feet high and budding over to grapefruit. He expects to build a shed over these trees and if the balance of his grove is again killed down he will have a little grove that will produce 500 to 1000 boxes of grapefruit in less than five years' time, and the sheds enabling him to hold the fruit late in spring, he expects to get $5.00 per box, or $500.00 to $600.00 from this little patch each year.

If any one of our readers have any doubt about growing oranges in this section, it will pay them to see the captain's grove. He is certainly to be congratulated on the results of his work.—San Mateo Item.

POMONA.

J. E. Farnes returned from Jacksonville last week, where he has been visiting his son.

Rev. M. C. Welch left Thursday for his northern home.

The social last Friday evening at Miss Emma Olmstead's passed off very pleasantly. As the evening was warm, chairs were placed on the piazza, which was lighted, and here, all enjoyed themselves by laughing, talking and playing games.

Walter Hilliard, of Palatka, was a visitor to our town last week.

W. J. Keown and son, Arthur, spent Sunday at their home here.

Several from here attended the Masonic memorial service, for the late postmaster of Jacksonville, in Satsuma last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Piphar and son, Charlie, spent a short while in Glenwood last week visiting friends.

Mr. Worcester is still shipping peaches, having had quite a large crop this year.

Lee Smith left last Monday for Fernandina, where he has work.

Young Peoples' Meeting last Sunday evening was led by Miss Mercedes Keown.

REFUSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, lead also to the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at Ackerman & Stewart's, Palatka, and Lounds' drug store, Crescent City.

COMO.

Rev. J. K. Ford, has been quite ill for the week past and was not able to keep his appointment to preach on Sunday in the M. E. Church at Como. The Epworth League held its regular session in the evening led by Mrs. W. L. Gable, by special permission of William Haight Gable.

Rev. Mr. Davis, of Jacksonville, will fill the pulpit at the M. E. church next Sunday evening.

Fourth of July will be observed at the residence of Mrs. O. B. Robinson, directress of the Knights of Sunshine. Everybody is invited. Come late in the afternoon, after the heat of the day is somewhat abated, bring a small lunch, and you will find tea and ice cream ready for you. About four or five o'clock or any time you care to.

Mr. N. A. Vurgason, Miss Ella and Fred left Monday afternoon for Palatka on their way to Memphis, Tenn.

Rev. J. K. Ford expected to leave Wednesday morning for Jacksonville to return Saturday. Mrs. Ford and the children expect to spend the Fourth at Nashua.

Ben Haymart and the boys expect to spend the Fourth in Palatka.

Dr. Underwood has been up to see his family, briefly, returning Monday morning.

Mr. Thos. Smith spent Sunday evening in Como, going south on 21 at midnight.

A little sensation, confined to a limited area was caused late Sunday night, by screams, apparently of a woman or a number of something. Neighbors quickly responded but the origin was found to be quite innocent and the excitement subsided.

Mr. A. Ye rdeley continues shipping peaches, and will soon begin on pears.

CURES SCIATICA.

Rev. W. L. Riley, LL. D., of New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, the first application giving my first relief, and the second, entire relief. I can give it an unqualified recommendation. 50c, 50c and $1.00 at Ackerman & Stewart's, Palatka, and Lounds' drug store, Crescent City.

FOREIGNERS OF NOTE.

Mascagni, the composer, has contracted to write two operas within two years.

Duke Siegfried deliberately fouled a brother officer's mount in a race, was disqualified as a gentleman rider, and resigned from the Bavarian army.

Sir Conrad Reeves, chief justice of Barbadoes, who died a short time ago, was a mulatto who rose from the humblest social condition. He began life as a newspaper reporter and eventually came to be regarded as the greatest statesman, ablest lawyer and most patriotic of all native West Indians. At the time of his death he was 80 years old.

Chekib Bey, diplomatic representative of Turkey in Washington, is officially unknown to the Roosevelt administration, though he has been in the national capital six months. He reached Washington just before President McKinley's departure for Buffalo, and after the tragedy there his credentials had to be returned to Turkey for necessary changes as to the personnel of this government. The corrected papers have not yet arrived and Chekib Bey is still in official retirement.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sales of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of the undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous system and all they took when feeling dull and had with head-aches and other aches. You need only a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You can get this reliable remedy at Lounds' Drug Store, Crescent City. Get Green's Special Alligator.

YERKES GENEROUS TO ART.

American Magnate Pays the French Artist, Constant, $10,000 Above His Price.

Charles T. Yerkes, who is promoting rapid transit in London, recently sent to Benjamin Constant, the artist, a check for $30,000, probably the highest price ever paid by anybody for his own portrait.

An original feature of this payment is that the price demanded and agreed to was $20,000, but Mrs. Yerkes was so pleased with her husband's likeness that the railway magnate added $10,000, accompanying the check with a note saying:

"Which additional sum I pray you to accept as a token of my high admiration of your genius and gratitude for your having consented to both with such an unspurring model."

Mr. Constant proudly answered: "While appreciating your amiable intentions I must decline the voluntary increase. My price cannot vary one way or the other according to the degree of satisfaction felt by my sisters. Therefore upon receipt of your permission I will return the $10,000 into a fund of public charities."

Among Constant's other recent portraits of prominent Americans are those of J. Pierpont Morgan, which he shipped to New York a few weeks ago; Mrs. Parrott, Baroness De Seillieres and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. The last is not yet finished.

SENDS PRESIDENT A LION.

A Colorado Admirer of Roosevelt Sends Savage Present to the White House.

A genuine mountain lion has just reached the white house as a testimonial to the president's hunting prowess. It is the gift of a friend at Hayden, Col., and an exception will be made in this case in that the beast will be kept at the white house instead of being sent to the zoological park, as is the usual custom. Coons, wild cats, bears, lions, tigers, alligators and other attractive pets have all been consigned to the zoo, while tigers like cats and dogs are usually allowed to stray or are given into the tender keeping of the white house attendants. Chickens are far differently, because Kermit Roosevelt happens to be a violent fowl fancier. Consternation was created about the white house when the rumor spread about that the lion lifted from the express wagon contained a mountain lion, and great respect was shown the new arrival. Later, however, when it was understood that the lion is a pretty example of the taxidermist's art, new courage was taken, and the lion was carried to the basement of the white house. The animal is beautifully mounted, and will find a place either in the upper hall of the private part of the house or in the library.

Three Washington Society Leaders Unintentionally Buy Paris "Creations" Alike.

Mrs. Foraker, wife of the senator from Ohio; Mrs. Keane, mother of the senator from New Jersey, and Mrs. Hitchcock, wife of the secretary of the interior, recently appeared at the same function arrayed in new imported Paris costumes, which the ladies were surprised to discover were identical in material, design, trimming and ornament. The trio were like triplets dressed alike.

Each woman supposed her gown an absolutely original creation. Mrs. Foraker bought her gown in Cincinnati, Mrs. Hitchcock bought hers in St. Louis and Mrs. Keane purchased hers in New York. Mrs. Hanna owns the fourth edition of this Paris gown and she got hers in Cleveland.

Senator Foraker's good-naturedly informed his wife that she should have patronized home industry. All are greatly chagrined and none will ever again buy a Paris creation unless accompanied by an ironclad guaranty that the purchaser will not be in danger of meeting her dearest friend arrayed so as to look like her own picture.
